CHEAPER THAN THE CHEAPEST—A good house and lot can be purchased in Nauvoo for about $100—less that half the cost of the building. Larger and more costly lwellings are offered at various prices from $200 to $1,000. We question whether a point can be found in the United states, which holds out advantages to the poor man or nen with shender means, equal to those now offered in Nauvoo.

Walsworth, charged with defrauding two poor emigrant women by the names of Alice Cassilly and Elizabeth Cassilly, out of the sum of $19.60 under the following circumstances: It appears that the accused keeps an office at No. 75 Courtland street, purporting to forward passengers West, and sold on Tuesday last, a passage ticket to these two women, for the above sum, which ticket was warranted to take them to Cincinnati; but on arriving at Albany they were informed by the agents, Rouch & Co., that the ticket was not good, consequently they were compelled to return back to this city, and on an application to this Walsworth they were unable to procure the return of their money. Shocking Murder in Newark.—Much excitement was produced in this city last evening, at or a little before sunset, by the discovery of the dead body of a woman in the basement of No 5 Durand street, a small street leading from Mulberry towards the river. It appears that for several days an unusual and very disgresable stench had been discovered by persons residing in the vicinity of the premises, but the more immediate neighbors ascribed it to a pig-stye, kept by one of the occupants of a house close by. The circumstance of this smell, together with the fact that several days had elapsed since the deceased or her reputed huband had been seen, induced a person who was equainted with them to break into the place. The man, whose name it appears is Patrick Mahan, met him at the door, and presented an object more pittable than can well be integrined. He had been lying on the only bed they had, apparently for several days, and was in a state closely bordering upon starvation; by the side of the bed, on the floor, lay the remains of his reputed wife, with but little covering upon her, and far advanced in a state of deceased corpes—altogether presenting a scene too disgusting to be described. Alderman McCormick of the same ward, being called, immediately repaired to the spot and had the miserable man sent to the watch house, while in the meantime the Coroner. Geo. H. Brunn, Eaq. summoned a jury of inquest. After viewing the body the jury was instructed to repeir to the City Watch House, to review the testimony and agree upon a verdict, viz:—That the deceased came to her death from causes unknown with certainty to this jury under the evidence given, but under strong circumstances which lead the jury to believe she came to her death from causes unknown with certainty to this jury under the evidence given, but under strong circumstances which hand of her reputed husband, Poter Mahan.—Newark Advertiser, May 28.

MONEY MARKET.

Thursday, May 28-6 P. M. The stock market looks better to-day, and prices have slightly improved. Harlem went up 1; Norwich and Worcester 2; Roading 1; Long Island 2; Pennsylvania and Worcester; Reading; Long Island; Pennsylvania 6's; Morris Canal 2.

At the second board a further improvement was realized. Harlem went up 4; Norwich and Worcester; Reading; This improvement can be attributed to the efforts of the bears to get prices up, for the purpose of making uew contracts. Transactions, for several days past, have been very limited, and nearly all the old contracts have been fulfilled. Operators are, therefore, anxious to do something; and if the bears can get up an advance of one or two per cent, they will, without doubt, make all the contracts they can get, and then lef prices down below the former level. It is stated that the government has not drawn upon this city for any of the public funds in deposit here. This is very good evidence that when the demand does come, there must be a greater depression in the money market than yet experienced.

that when the denand does come, there must be a greater depression in the money market than yet experienced. The official report of the Secretary of the Treasury on the 1st proximo, will show what reduction there has been in the surplus.

A petition, which purported to be signed by a majority of the directors of the Hudson Fire Insurance Company of the city of New York, was presented to the Vice Chancellor, praying that the Company may be dissolved. The petition stated, that in the course of their business very heavy losses had been sustained, and that the greater part of the stock, property and effects, had been lost, or so much reduced by losses, that they do not afford a reasonable security to those who deal with the Company, its capital being wholly inadequate to carry on its business. An order to show cause why the Company should not be dissolved was granted. dissolved was grunted.

The provision trade of Great Britain, for the past year, compared with that of previous years, exhibits an improvement, showing that the condition of the people is far better than for some time past. It is an established fact, that no articles indicate, by their fluctuations, more decidedly the condition of the lower classes, than butter and cheese, or exhibit more sensitively the tendency which higher prices have to promote additional supplies while lower prices immediately diminish them, or to show how little prices are influenced by the mere quantity of these necessary articles of food to a large class, and articles of luxury to another large portion. We find that high prices produce large importations and low compared with that of previous years, exhibits an imprices limited importations.

The former fell in 1843, to 161,996 cwtz, and the latter to 166,563 cwtz; and again, with the improved condition of the people, rose in 1845 to cwts., and the latter to 165,505 cwts.; and again, with the improved condition of the people, rose in 1846 to 254,395 cwts., and 268,245 cwts. respectively. When we see this evidence of the deprivation which the poorer classes must suffer in periods of depression so strongly evidenced in these articles, what must it be in the more immediate and important necessaries of life.

The following tables furnish the chief sources of supply, and the progress of the trade with each country during the last six years, by which it will be observed that the imports of butter from North America, though on the rapid increase, still form an insignificant portion branches of our export trade.

It must be taken into consideration, that any increase in the exportation of these articles from year to year, requires a very great increase in the production, in consequence of the rapidly increasing domestic demand. Our population has already reached such an extent, and is increasing so fast, that we consume a large per cent of our own products every year; and the time is not far distant whenthe consumption of our principal agricultural staples in this country will increase faster than the production. We predict, in the course of ten or fifteen years, a greater foreign demand for all our most important staples than we can supply, with all our resources and facility of

GENIN'S GOSSAMER HATS,

WEIGHING from 2% to 3% ounces. Price only $3.50. It is about two years since the Gossamer Hat was first introduced by the subscriber to the notice of the New York public, as the lightest, the most desirable, an ithe most tasty article for summer wear heretofore in use.

The astonishing success attending them, evinced by the extraordinary large amount of sales, and the popular approbation bestowed upon them by the many who have given them their patronage, have not been lost upon the epublic, who, to show that he is ever anxious to excel in his art, now presents for public patronage the Gossamer hat, much ligher and more pleasant than any other ever before offered. They are not liable, like the Leghors and Panama, to lose either shape or color from exposure to the rain. They cannot be soiled by either perspiration or oil from the hair, so commonly the case with other Hats, for the much admired style of trimmings, originating with the proprietor, effectually prevents all this. This is a decided advantage over all other hats.

The public are invited to call and see this article at J. N. GENIN'S Hat and Cap Store, my? Im*rc 214 Broadway, opposite St. Faul's Church.

Johnson, in honor of the late lamented Major Ringgold, the Chevaler Bayard of the U. S. Army. He is a very remarkable collection has been not only, but has women the state of three and two mile heats. He beat Antoinette, Wilton Brown and Belzebub, at three mile heats, at Beltimore, last week, and the previous week he beat the celebrated Marchinomes at Potersburg.

The meeting promises to be one of signal interest, and we expect to see an insurance turn out. Races at four mile heats, three mile heats, for each of which three cuttries have been made, is an attraction which has rarely been offered in the United States.

Mr. Morenean thought all were included by the terms of the resolution.

The House got through committee the Diplomatic Bill to-day; and the Senate the supplemental Army Bill to a third reading, and the confirmation of the officers of the new regiment of dragoons.

The public schools of the city had a procession to-day—and near 600 children of these schools were drawn up this morning in a circle in the rotunda of the Capitol. The object was to show to Congress what the city is doing for education, weighed down with taxes as it is, and as an inducement to the national legislature to assist the municipal authorities, in carrying out the plan of a general education of all the children within the limits of the corporation. For this purpose, from four to six new school houses will be wanted, and an appropriation from the treasury to aid in their establishment. Dependent as Washington is, has to be, and was intended to be upon the government, we cannot divine how this praiseworthy object, of assisting in the education of the children of the capital, can be evaded, either upon constitutional sophistry, or the humburging cry of "retrenchment and reform."

While upon this agreeable subject of education, the Grand Secretary Ridgeley, of the I. O. of O. F. gave some important facts, connected with the financial condition of the benevolent order. In his speech at the dedication of the new hall, on Monday last, he said the fraternity in the United States, had now a body of over 100,000 contributing members—that they had a surplus fund on hand of a million of dollars, and that the personal contribution of the paying members of a cent per week each, would give an annual sum of 250, 000, for the sr pport of a college or primary schools. There is no association of men in the Union, that have such a power in their hands as the Odd Fellows; and none who exercise their power to more praiseworthy purposes.

There is no association of men in the Union, that have such a power in their hands as the Odd Fellows; and none who exercise their power to more praiseworthy purposes.

By invitation, the public schools attended, teachers and scholars, and all hands, the National Fair this morning, and like the old ones, the little enes appeared to be astonished, that with the American people, "some things could be done as well as others," and others peradventure very well for the beginning.

We had the honor, this evening, of encountering among the bathing tubs, the veritable old Veto, our late much abused chief magistrate, President Tyler. He looks remarkably fresh and vigorous. Our worthy good Mayor, Col. Seaton, escerted the ex-President and his friends through the bazaar, but we doubt whether he could be persuaded that all these results of home industry, are dependent upon the bill of '42, which by his approval, (minus the land clause,) became a law of the land. The charming lady of the ex-President is, we learn, also in the city, and other members of the family.

While we write, 11 o'clock, P. M., a military band is performing in the street. The military spirit of the people is paramount, tantamount, and catamount to a war now with the universal world, making only a morning meal of the piebald sombreroes of La Republico Mexicano. The only apprehension now is, that the volunteer army, noless volens, will deem it expedient to visit the halls of the Aztecs, the Gustimozins, and the Montezumas. The ball is opened, and there is no foretelin gths parties that maybe drawn into the dance, or the scope and duration of the entertainment. As they are, there is not, perhaps, upon the face of the earth a people occupying a finer territory than the Mexicans, or a more distressed, distracted, dislocated, good-for-nothing race of mongrels, under the sun. It would seem that all the most inferior breeds have been crossed and blended, as if with the express view of producing the completest deterioration. It is evident now, that 16,000 Anglo
